Workforce Readiness

Approved for 1.0 Recertification
Credits

Tuesday, July 19, 2005
8:00 AM – 10:15 AM

at the Best Western Hotel
11580 Roosevelt Blvd.
Philadelphia, PA

SHRM realizes the importance and the growing impact of workforce readiness in all facets of business, industry, community and education.

Over 70 million “baby boomers” will retire over the next decade. The economy is picking up and companies are hiring once again. Human Resources professionals are seeing applicants with huge skill gaps trying to enter or re-enter the workforce.

Workforce Readiness includes the preparation of a qualified workforce through the public schools, vocational and technical colleges, adult education opportunities, remedial employee training and continuing professional development. Such efforts mandate collaboration between business, industry, local, state, and national government, educators, and the local community.

Join us to learn more about this initiative from SHRM National Speaker David Namura.

About our Speaker:

David M. Namura
Manager, Governmental Relations
Society for Human Resource Management

As Manager of Governmental Relations, Dave oversees SHRM's State Affairs and Member Advocacy Programs, working with HR professionals to advance the profession through public policy in each of the 50 states and ensuring the voice of the HR professional is heard by public policy makers both in state houses and in Washington, DC. Dave also serves as SHRM's Workforce Readiness Champion, working to position SHRM as a leader in workforce training and development issues.

Dave holds a BA in Political Science from the University of Colorado at Denver. Prior to his current position at SHRM, he held several different positions in local and state politics, including Field Director for Colorado's 6th Congressional District in the 2000 election cycle.
